THREE GIRLS FAIL TO COME FROM SCHOOL

No Clues Found Yet in Case of Girl Who Left Home
Here Wednesday

TWO MORE ON FRIDAY

Police Are Making an Effort to Locate Girls Here and in Los Angeles

Two more girls have disappeared from their homes in Glendale. Yesterday morning, Marcelle Kohl, 14 years old, living at 332 Arden Avenue, and Katherine Sunar, age 16, of 607 North Howard street, started for the Intermediate school, and have not been seen since. The police department was notified of the disappearance of the two girls at 9:30 last night and Captain McGuire was detailed to investigate.

When last seen Marcelle Kohl was wearing a brown dress and black patent leather oxfords. Katherine Sunar has black hair and brown eyes. She is living with L. R. Black at 607 North Howard street and it is said that she is under the care of the city mother of Los Angeles.

The disappearance of these two girls makes a total of three girls to disappear while on their way to school within the past week. The other girl was Jessie Whyte, who has not been seen since she started for the San Fernando academy Wednesday morning.

RAIL TIE-UP SEEMS NEAR IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Industry faced a tie-up today as the menace of a railroad strike hung over the nation. Railroad executives, not budging an inch, set about to cut wages of 2,000,000 railroad workers approximately 10 per cent, in face of the ultimatum of the railroad unions that there would be a strike October 30 if negotiations were not reopened.

As the chiefs of the powerful railroad unions and 100 presidents of railroads were barricaded in separate hotels holding the councils of war, the United States railroad labor board handed down a decision that was considered a middle-of-the-road decree. The board refused to grant the request of the carriers that work in all railroad shops be done on a piece work basis, a victory for the unions. The eight-hour day and pay on an hourly basis was upheld. The board in the same decision decreed that employers have a right to make all shop men take physical examinations. This proposal has been fought by the unions, who, in their argument, said that carriers in the examinations could discriminate against holders of union cards.

TUJUNGA FOLKS FORM ROAD ASSOCIATION

TUJUNGA, Oct. 15.—An organization to be known as the Tujunga Road Improvement Association was formed last Tuesday night at a meeting held in Bolton hall. The object of this organization is to carry on plans for the repaving of some of the main streets in Tujunga. Dr. E. T. Theobald was elected president; Mrs. C. B. Wade and Fred M. Ashley, secretaries; and David Castelle, treasurer.

The Community Church held its annual reunion and supper Wednesday night. The reports of the various church officers were read at this meeting.

The body of Mrs. H. C. Meyer, who died in Tujunga recently last Wednesday night for Hobart, Ind., the former home of the deceased. It was accompanied by the husband and two sons of the dead woman.

Mrs. O. A. Upson is spending a vacation at Santa Monica.

ADVENTURERS ARE BECOMING HOMESICK

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Many of the adventurous Americans who enlisted with the Spanish forces to fight the Moors have found service with the Spanish troops was not as they expected and are reported destitute in Spanish ports. Others have been rejected by the Spanish medical authorities and they, too, are left stranded. They were recruited mostly in New York. Some came from the ranks of the unemployed, some were former service men and not a few were former commission officers in the United States Army in the world war. They were enlisted by officers of the Spanish army for a foreign legion in the Moorish campaign. The Spanish government has not offered to return them to America.

MRS. REDLICH JUST FOLLOWED HIM HOME

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Mrs. Mildred E. Redlich of East Pearson street was granted a decree of divorce and $600 a month alimony today. She testified that her husband, Abraham L. Redlich, president of the Redlich Mercantile company of Bakersfield, Cal., had slapped her face and sent her to bed without supper when she followed him from Chicago to Hot Springs, Ark., in January of this year.

Sugar-Coated Tyranny Is Subject Dr. Crane Is Treating Tonight

Read what Dr. Frank Crane has to say this evening on bolshevism and world's workers.

See what he says about sugar-coated tyranny. There is no more important subject before the world today than this. Dr. Crane doesn't hesitate to say what is on his mind, and it would be well for all to understand.

You will find it on the editorial page this evening.

You will also find Henry James' comments on motion picture censorship of interest. Mr. James cannot see the wisdom of having a different set of reformers in every town, with different fads, and he says so.

James W. Foley, philosopher, in his Listening Post tonight tells of leaving for Colorado, where he will speak to the miners in the Rockefeller mines, and he also tells something about the truth and lies, which will be found of interest.

You will also find keen editorials, wise sayings, comment from Eastern papers and other features tonight that will cause you to think.

That's what this editorial page is for—to make you think. Read it.

POWER OF PRESS IS UPHELD BY CHICAGO COURT TODAY

$10,000,000 Suit Against a Newspaper Is Closed
by Decision

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—The suit for $10,000,000 brought by the city against the Chicago Tribune for alleged libel was thrown out of court today by Circuit Court Judge H. M. Fisher. Judge Fisher upheld the demurrer filed by the Tribune. The suit was based on statements made by the Tribune that the city was bankrupt, which officials held injured the financial status of the city and it was unable to dispose of bonds.

"This suit is not in harmony with the genius, spirit or object of our institutions," Judge Fisher declared. "It does not belong to our day, but rather to the day when monarchs promulgated laws with the purpose of carrying out their selfish passion for undisturbed power. Since no cause for action exists, it is unnecessary to consider any of the other questions involved in the arguments."

POSSES READY TO BATTLE WITH BANDITS

GRASS VALLEY, Oct. 15.—A battle between posses under Sheriff Johnson of Sierra county and the two bandits who looted the Sierra Valley bank at Loyola more than a week ago, is imminent in the high Sierras, near Cisco, Placer county. After five days of silence, Sheriff Johnson sent a call for reinforcements, saying that he had the men bottled up and was soon to close in on them. Early today a posse headed by Fred Robertson, a private detective, left here by automobile to aid in the expected capture. They were accompanied by the two Indian trappers from Plumas county, Johnson, with five companions, found the bandits' trail Monday and clung to it in spite of the barriers offered by some of the wildest country in California.

CAPT. JACKSON OUT FOR OFFICE OF POSTMASTER

Well-Known Glendale Man Is
First With "Bee" in Bonnet Here

HE IS WELL QUALIFIED

Believes He Knows Needs of Glendale Public in Matter of Postal Service

Capt. D. R. Jackson, 188 S. Brand boulevard, is the first man to announce for the office of postmaster of Glendale. His intention to enter the race was announced today.

Captain Jackson has lived in Glendale the past five years and has a host of friends who consider him well fitted for the office. He is a retired broker from New York city and owns considerable property here.

During the war Captain Jackson served as captain of instruction in Glendale and at other coast cities, under the honorary title of "captain" given him by the state. He served in this capacity without pay until Armistice Day when he received a commission as captain in the quarter-master corps of the United States army.

In speaking of his candidacy for the office Capt. Jackson said: "I think I am fitted to hold the office of postmaster because I have had considerable experience as a business man and I am well acquainted with the needs of Glendale and the service required. I am acquainted with conditions here and the things that are needed in the postoffice service. I believe I can serve the people to their entire satisfaction. The needs of the city as regards a postoffice are many but they will be brought about in time."

BLACK STONE MEANS WAR IN REALM OF SOME FIGHTERS

HONOLULU, Oct. 15.—Evidence pointing to the development by the ancient Hawaiians of a remarkably advanced type of civilization has recently been brought to light.

In these modern days only prize-fighters, bullfighters and screen stars can stipulate the conditions under which they will fight and the time and place of the encounter; real fighters must still clash with the enemy wherever and under whatever conditions they may encounter, even as their savage ancestors did.

Not so the ancient Hawaiian warriors!

In those days when a chief or a king felt like having a good satisfying scrap with one of his neighbors he did nothing so crude and uncivilized as to get an army together and try to take his enemy by surprise. Instead, he sent his intended victim a little message, usually a black stone, upon receiving which the victim-to-be gave his army the casual once-over, figured a liberal allowance of time in which to train for the fight and sent back an answer. If the time suited the challenger a place was agreed upon and on the appointed day and hour the two armies met and mixed it hand in hand, keeping it up until one of the two had nobody left to continue the fight. In this manner nobody had to fight if he happened to be enjoying life in peaceful pursuits, and on the other hand, nobody had to go around long carrying a chip on his shoulder.

One of the most popular battlefields among the ancient warriors was an old lava-flow, just south of historic Kealakauka, on the island of Hawaii, the scene of Captain Cook's violent death. Here many a bloody battle was fought, and here lie the warriors who died in battle and were buried, according to custom, where they fell. The place is now a mecca for tourists and natives alike, recent discoveries of graves and implements of war having drawn many interested visitors.

Old-Fashioned Fete

Knowing the passion of President and Mrs. Harding to remain "just folks," Washington is expecting a good deal from the coming White House reception. Mrs. Harding knows how to make the "folks" have that "homey" feeling, and there is every expectation that on New Year's Day there will be an old-fashioned celebration at the White House which will give sufficient incentive to the social set to see that the White House celebration is carried forth in spirit in other homes in the capital.

A dozen or more dinner dates have already been announced by the White House, and Washington society is keeping an ear close to the ground, for one never knows when more invitations will go forth. Social joy will be supreme if the President and Mrs. Harding decide to give a White House ball, and what a scramble there will be for invitations! Yes, social Washington actually scrambles for invitations; but, of course, it is done through underground, social channels.

All in all, the prospects for a brilliant social season are fine, and perhaps even a few of the socially unappointed may be justified in brushing up last year's dress clothes.

FORMER BURGLAR RETURNS ALL LOOT

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 15.—A "consignment package" containing 14 gold watches, some watch chains and other articles was received by Chief of Police O'Brien today from a former burglar whose name is being kept a secret, and who "wanted to go straight" after serving a prison term. The package was received through Louis O'Neal, an attorney of San Jose, who said that the articles were stolen in Modesto, Turlock, Bakersfield, Oakland and other cities.

SOCIAL FUNCTIONS IN WASHINGTON WILL NOW RESUME

Schedule for Coming Winter
Induces Society of Capital to Come Out of Shells

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Society in the national capital is permitting itself to actually beam with joy. All reserve and calm dignity have been thrown off for the time being by the social set. President and Mrs. Harding are responsible.

The White House has announced a list of winter entertainments, and social Washington is happy, for it means that the nation's capital is going to have a social season that will mean a return to social "normalcy." Washington has suffered from social stagnation since the inception of the Wilson administration nearly nine years ago.

A goodly portion of Washington lives for the social whirl, and now it seems that this winter there will be something really worth living for.

Most important to the social world is the fact that the White House announces that the old custom of a Presidential reception on New Year's will be revived.

For years the White House reception on New Year's Day was the signal for a general suspension of work and a dilapidated pursuit of social enjoyments. All of this passed, however, with the advent of Woodrow Wilson. Now New Year's will mean something in Washington again. Of course, it won't be the old New Year's celebration, when everyone maintained open house, and the keys to the wine cellars were lost for the day. But then, who knows? Maybe some of those old wine cellars aren't depleted yet.

The White House New Year's reception starts early in the day, when army and navy and diplomatic callers are received. Then the members of Congress pay their respects, and after that the general public files into the great East Room to do its bit of homage. When the public files in "then the fun begins," for a good bit of the White House formality is dispensed with.

Knowing the passion of President and Mrs. Harding to remain "just folks," Washington is expecting a good deal from the coming White House reception. Mrs. Harding knows how to make the "folks" have that "homey" feeling, and there is every expectation that on New Year's Day there will be an old-fashioned celebration at the White House which will give sufficient incentive to the social set to see that the White House celebration is carried forth in spirit in other homes in the capital.

A dozen or more dinner dates have already been announced by the White House, and Washington society is keeping an ear close to the ground, for one never knows when more invitations will go forth. Social joy will be supreme if the President and Mrs. Harding decide to give a White House ball, and what a scramble there will be for invitations! Yes, social Washington actually scrambles for invitations; but, of course, it is done through underground, social channels.

All in all, the prospects for a brilliant social season are fine, and perhaps even a few of the socially unappointed may be justified in brushing up last year's dress clothes.

HARDING STEPS OUT TO AVERT STRIKE OF RAIL MEN

Holds a Consultation Over
Rates and Wages With Labor Board Today

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—President Harding today personally took a hand in adjusting railroad rates and wages on a new basis in the hope that it would aid in reviving industry.

Harding called the public group of the railway labor board to Washington today and personally took them to the office of the interstate Commerce Commission for a conference. "The purpose of the meeting was a broad consideration of the possibility of an early adjustment of railroad rates and wages in the expectation that it would contribute to the industrial revival," an explanatory statement issued at the White House announced.

Railroad union heads left Chicago today carrying secret orders to be sent to all union officials throughout the country tomorrow, understood to call a general strike of a million and a half railroad workers on October 30.

LIFE SENTENCE FOR HIGHTOWER WAS GIVEN TODAY

REDWOOD CITY, Calif., Oct. 15.—William Hightower, itinerant baker and philosopher, was today sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of Father Patrick Heslin, kidnapped Colma priest. A new trial was denied Hightower. Superior Judge George Buck of San Mateo county passed the sentence.

"Have you any statement to make," Judge Buck asked.

"I didn't know much about my attorneys," he answered, "and I gave them the names of many persons to be called to testify. They didn't call them. I don't think I had a fair trial."

NEW LUMBER YARD HERE NOVEMBER 1

A new lumber yard is to be started in Glendale by E. F. Heisser, who will operate a yard at Doran and Wilson streets. The company will be incorporated for $100,000 and will be connected with the biggest mills in the state of Washington.

Work of erecting the sheds and office buildings will start at once and it is expected the buildings will be completed and a complete stock of lumber in by November 1.

MRS. MABEL CAPELL TO SING MONDAY

The metaphysicians of Los Angeles will hold their annual festival October 17 to 21 in Music-Art hall, formerly known as Blanchard hall, 233 South Broadway. Monday evening Mrs. Mabel Capell of this city will sing, and on Tuesday evening Ruth St. Denis will dance.

Eminent speakers, teachers and musicians from all parts of the country will participate in the programs which will be the most elaborate ever put on by the metaphysicians at one of their festivals.

Human Score Will Tell Play by Play Home Town Today

OAKLAND, Cal., Oct. 14.—St. Mary's football team is at Reno today to play the University of Nevada. As an experiment, arrangements have been made whereby each play will be flashed back to the St. Mary's gym and two "proxy" teams lined up on the gym floor will execute the same play for the benefit of footers who could not go to Reno. It is an innovation in "human scoreboards."

STANFORD HEAD IS SOME OBSERVER

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 15.—Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford University, has come to the conclusion, based on "years of observation," that women are no different now from what they used to be. If anything, he thought they are getting more like what they used to be for they wear their hair now just like they did at the close of the Civil War. The only change in women in recent years is a superficial one, changing with the styles, he said.

POETICAL VAMP'S LETTER IS LIMIT

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—A bit of poetry won Ruth C. Claremont a divorce from Ralph C. Claremont. The verse was contained in a letter a San Francisco girl, who said her friends called her "Miss Hollowlegs," had written to Claremont. It read: "A happy land where we can go, Where rivers of booze abound, And sloe gin rickies hang on trees, And high balls roll on the ground."

CLOTHES LINE WAS ALSO HIS LIFE LINE

WOODLAND, Cal., Oct. 15.—John Jones' clothes "line" proved a life line last night. As he had left it is the clothes line and a pair of pants. The pants were hanging on the clothes line. All of Jones' other clothes except his nightshirt were burned when fire destroyed his home.

ROBBERS LEAVE NOTHING UNDONE

DENVER, Oct. 15.—When Michael Muro and his family returned home after a show last night they found that burglars had carried away everything moveable in the house. The wall paper and floors was about all the looters left.

BOYS ARE BETTER IN CHICAGO NOW

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Boys are now the "little angel children" of Chicago mothers. Boys are better morally than girls, in Chicago, at least, Joseph L. Moss, chief probation officer, told the United Press in an interview today.

"Girls are not only worse than boys, but the girls are showing improvement while the boys are gradually raising their moral standard," Moss stated. "Last year there were fewer boys brought into juvenile court than the previous year, while the number of girl delinquents increased."

The old axiom that an average girl was better than the average boy is now only tradition, Moss stated. Prohibition is given credit by Moss for the general raise in the standards of morality among boys.

"Many boys who formerly came into court here were in trouble because of acts committed while under the influence of liquor. This is not true of girls. Practically none of the girls are drinkers."

"While 65 percent of the 684 girls in juvenile court last year were charged with sex delinquency, not one of the boys arraigned was held on that charge. The boys generally were charged with petty thefts and robberies. Only 10 per cent of the girls were held on robbery charges."

EX-KAISER IS GIVEN ONE MORE JOLTER

BERLIN, Oct. 15.—Despite the fact that Princess Joachim, the wife of the former Kaiser's youngest son, ran away from her husband and child once, and despite servant's testimony taken secretly alleging that she was immoral, the court yesterday awarded her the custody of her only child. This decision was the first test of the House of Hohenzollern laws vs. the laws of the new republic. Prince Eitel Frederick, the Kaiser's eldest son, who took the child when Prince Joachim committed suicide, claimed the right to custody because the Kaiser issued an edict placing the Hohenzollern powers in Eitel's hands. This decision was declared to be illegal.

COAST TO COAST
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—John Enclinos, chief of the "mobile agents" of the prohibitionists, placed on the Pacific district, was transferred today to the Pittsburgh (Pa.) district.

DR. RUSSELL IS CONSIDERING POSTAL POST

Brilliant Woman of Many Achievements Is Being
Suggested for Office

QUALIFIED FOR WORK

Friends Urging Her to Seek Nomination for Local Post
Soon To Be Filled

Late today it became known that numerous friends of Dr. Jessie A. Russell are urging her to become a candidate for postmistress of Glendale. Dr. Russell is now giving the matter consideration. Strong support, not only in Glendale, but throughout the district, has already been extended. Dr. Russell is well-qualified for the position, as she has occupied many important positions of trust wherein she has demonstrated her business ability.

Dr. Russell has held the state presidency of the California Congress of Mothers and Parents and Teachers Association, an organization of over 42,000 members, holding this office for three years. Dr. Russell has also been chairman of civics, Los Angeles district, California Federation of Women's Clubs, and first vice president of Los Angeles City Club, as well as chairman of legislation for numerous other organizations. During her 12 years' residence in Glendale Dr. Russell has been prominently identified with all civic movements for betterment and is a graduate physician and has also studied law at the University of Southern California.

Such an appointment would be in line with the policy of the administration to carefully weigh the qualifications of the applicants and, irrespective of sex, appointing the best qualified to the position.

Several postmistresses have been appointed in California, among the most recent being Mrs. Clara B. Mosher of Inglewood. Mrs. Mosher was one of the most prominent civic and club workers in Southern California.

PROGRESSIVES SAY NEWBERRY CASE IS NOT ENDED

Leaders Fear That He Can Be Unseated With Democrats in Senate

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The Newberry case must not be dropped. This was the notice served today on administration leaders in the Senate by a number of Progressive Republicans, who said they had information indicating that the party leaders counted the Michigan election case closed.

The Progressives, who include Kenyon, Norris, Johnson, La Follette and some others, intend to join with Democratic senators if necessary, to force action in the open Senate upon the reports filed by the committee that investigated charges that Newberry spent too much money in getting elected in 1913.

Republican leaders have virtually informed Newberry that the sweeping exoneration he obtained in the majority report of the committee is about all he need expect in the way of action, for a long time, at any rate. Democrats who filed minority reports will seek a polling up of the reports for discussion and action in the Senate.

The Republican Progressives intend to vote against seating Newberry. There may be enough of them, in combination with the Democrats, to unseat him, administration leaders realize.

HOUSE CALLS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Col. Edward M. House, who, so far as known, has not seen former President Wilson since the reported development of differences between them during the peace negotiations at Paris, more than two years ago, called at his residence here yesterday and left his cards for the former President and Mrs. Wilson.

CAN YOU USE HIM, MR. DRUGGIST?

In today's Want Ads there are a number of experienced and trained workers who are asking for positions—likewise, a number of employers are making known their wants. Thus the Want Ad columns of the PRESS become an active "clearing house" for the employer and employee; the buyer and seller; the finder and loser; the landlord and tenant. One Want Ad today is addressed especially to druggists:

AUTO TRADESMEN TO HOLD THREE-DAY MEET IN SOUTH

Delegations of automobile men from all parts of California will attend the Southern Division convention of the California Automobile Trade Association, which will be held Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, October 16, 17 and 18, under the auspices of the San Diego County Auto Trade Association.

Much fun as well as considerable business will be the order of things, according to the directors of the convention. The program is to be as follows:

Sunday, October 16
9 to 12 a. m., registration of delegates.

1 to 4 p. m., trip to Tia Juana.

4 to 6 p. m., barbecue in Tia Juana.

Monday, October 17

10 a. m. to 12 noon, important craft sessions.

2:30 to 5 p. m., continuation of craft
sessions.

7 p. m., banquet, followed by a dance on the roof of the U. S. Grant hotel.

Tuesday, October 18

10 a. m., general meeting.

The U. S. Grant has been designated as the official hotel, and all delegates and their families will make it their headquarters.

For the ladies a trip around San Diego and surrounding territory has been planned, also an all-day excusion on Monday to Coronado island.

For the men will be given a real
"honest-to-goodness" bull fight, with bulls imported for the occasion from Mexico City.

Six or seven automobile loads of members of the local San Gabriel Valley Automobile Trade Association will leave here early Sunday morning, returning late Tuesday evening.

SALESMEN ENJOY REPORT OF VICTORY

Eighteen salesmen of the Edward & Wildey company attended their monthly dinner last night at the Los Angeles city club. Among those present were E. P. Hayward, H. E.
McCartney, and W. P. MacMullin of the Glendale office. After a splendid dinner informal discussions were held for the mutual benefit of the organization and its members to secure more co-operation and greater efficiency.

There are eight offices of this firm and the reports read by Mr. Wildey showing the September business of each branch placed the Glendale office at the top of the list. The three hustlers from Glendale did more business than four other offices combined and exceeded its nearest competitor by over $20,000. All indorsed the institution of the monthly dinner as a great help in securing incentive and enthusiasm. The firm offers a liberal check to the individual doing the most business in each month.

There is no question about the UNUSUAL RESULTS which Hupmobile owners get.

They pay less for gasoline and oil and tires. They pay less for repairs. They enjoy more continuous and more consistent service from their cars.

These advantages go straight back to the fine engineering, and to the special processes and special materials, which make the Hupmobile a DIFFERENT KIND of motor car.

They are the heart and soul of the contentment which is so typical of Hupmobile owners.

SCOUT TROOP GIVES PARENTS AN INSIDE VIEW OF WORK

Installation of Officers Was Carried Out, With Plans
for Year Explained

The program with which Troop No. 2, Glendale Boy Scouts, entertained parents and friends last evening at the Congregational Church, surpassed the expectations of guests. It was a typical scout meeting, opening with the salute to the flag.

Stillman Chase, the retiring senior patrol leader, called upon the scout master and his assistant to take charge of the meeting during the installation of officers.

The first officer installed was Eagle Scout Willard Roberts, who was made assistant scoutmaster of the troop. For the past two years Willard has been preparing himself for the office and in that time has worked up from tenderfoot to the rank of eagle. Scoutmaster Benjamin Robinson and his assistant, Benjamin Robinson, Jr., expressed satisfaction in having the help of the new assistant in carrying out the program the troop has planned for the year.

The next installation was that of Thomas Wood as senior patrol leader, and it was followed by the installation of Leslie Hatch, Arthur Weston, Wilfred Jackson and Arthur Barton as patrol leaders. Clifford Walcott was then installed as scribe. Following installation, the scout oath was recited in unison. A life and star scout pin was presented to John Farries, and a number of merit badges were given out.

The desire of the troop for a club house was voiced by Scoutmaster Robinson, who asked for suggestions from the parents as to the best way to realize that desire. Several suggestions were made about securing land which will be tried out.

A program of stunts by the different patrols was then given, which opened with a "first aid" drill by the patrol, headed by Leslie Hatch.

The second number, put on by the patrol, led by Arthur Weston, was featured by the antics of the "prehistoric animal, the wasamus, of which the scientific name is 'oodi-art.' It appeared to be a cross between a donkey and a shark and was intensely amusing.

Stunt number three was given by the patrol, headed by Wilfred Jackson, and was a farce in which a very realistic "Ford," model 1492, conveyed the villain of the cast—Wilfred Jackson—to the scene of the abduction of the heroine (Kenneth Miles), who was subsequently rescued by her father (Dudley Gregg) and the hero (James Fry), who had a gouty foot, but rendered valiant service nevertheless. Both arrived in a kiddie car. The costume added to the hilarity.

This closed the program and the serving of refreshments of wafers and punch followed.

An audience of about fifty parents and friends enjoyed the unique entertainment and pledged themselves to back the boys to any reasonable limit when they are ready to build a club house.

GREAT AUDIENCES SEE HARTMAN HERE

Glendale turned out by the hundreds last night to pay tribute to the genius of a fellow Californian when Ferris Hartman brought his entire company of 14 people to Glendale to headline the Meiklejohn and Dunn Vaudeville road shows at the T. D. and L. theater.

Mr. Hartman lived up to the advance press notices of his production and "The Toy Maker," a miniature musical company gave universal satisfaction. The costumes were clean and up to the minute—the dancing was superb and the comedy plus the tiny plot was of a nature to please everyone.

Meiklejohn and Dunn Vaudeville road shows will be a permanent feature at the T. D. and L. theater every Friday and Saturday. In addition to the vaudeville a special feature picture program will be offered.

Tonight two shows will be presented—the first at 7 and the second at 9 o'clock. The pictures tonight will be "The Off Sore Pirate" and "Miracles of the Jungle." There is no advance in prices for this double program.

Thomas Meighan and Agnes Ayres in "Cappy Ricks" and Mack Sennett's comedy, "On a Summer's Day" will head the bill for Sunday and Monday. Monday night will be another "Mothers' Night," with some of Glendale's kiddies in vaudeville.

FREIGHT WHISTLE ALARMS PEOPLE

The people of Glendale had a thrill last night when the whistle of a Southern Pacific freight train on the siding at San Fernando road stuck when the engineer blew it for the crossing.

Every resident of South Glendale who could walk went down to the tracks in a hurry. People in North Glendale were attracted by the shrill blasts of the whistle, and many thought the town was in danger of destruction by fire or that some other catastrophe had occurred. After all speed laws were forgotten excited people were assured by the switchman that there was no need to worry as the whistle had stuck and the engineer would have it fixed in a few minutes.

One matron said to her husband: "John, doesn't that remind you of the night we were married?" She was evidently reminded of the old days when the blushing bride and groom were escorted through town from one depot to another to the accompaniment of whistles, horns and clattering pans.

After the engineer had reached an agreement with the whistle and quiet once more reigned the crowd melted away.

If all the fools were dead, how lonely some we'd be!

An Important Message to You---

We call your attention to an opportunity for making realty profits. It is an opportunity that, once gone, will never return. It presents the same possibilities that Hollywood and Glendale presented a few years ago. The benefits reaped by the investor in real estate in those communities are too well known to you for us to dwell on the subject. Our message to you at this time is for you to secure a lot at and thereby profit by the enhancement of values in this Tract, which we believe will duplicate the advances in Glendale and Hollywood realty.

BUY A LOT FOR AN INVESTMENT
BUY A LOT AND BUILD A HOME

You will be astonished at conditions and prices that prevail at Angeles Park. It surely demands an investigation on your part. Visit Angeles Park and select a choice residential lot. Former low prices are still in effect.

$720--Large Level Lots--$900

Think of these prices. Where in or near Glendale can high-class desirable lots be purchased at anything near these prices? They really are worth much more; lots in the immediate vicinity are held at prices ranging from $1,200 upward. Verify these facts. You will then buy.

Ideally Located

Angelus Park lies between Glendale Boulevard and Tropico Boulevard, in Los Angeles City Limits, adjacent to South Glendale. The Tract Office is on the corner of Seneca Avenue and Glendale Boulevard, which is the Richardson Station of the Glendale car line. Our Agents are there daily. Make it a point to stop off and look these lots over. That is our message.

Truths in Epigram

Faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.—New Testament.

Doubting charms me not less than knowledge.—Dante.

The mind is the master over every kind of fortune; itself acts in both ways, being the cause of its own happiness and misery.—Seneca.

SUBSIDY TO SHIPPING

Frank Waterhouse, regarded as an authority on marine matters, says that a ship subsidy is vital. In the absence of such subsidy, he declares the United States will have to retire from the seas.

Despite the fact that Waterhouse naturally is prejudiced in favor of the activity with which he is identified, there are many not connected even remotely with shipping, who will agree with him.

Probably it was some such thought as this that inspired a majority of the senate to vote for abolition of canal tolls in relation to American coastwise shipping. Freedom from tolls would be equal to a very substantial subsidy. The term "subsidy" is not pleasing. By ceasing to exact tolls, the subsidy would be granted without the discomfort of saying so.

However, statesmen would be wise not to beat about the bush, but to come out frankly. Whether or not a subsidy is to be granted, the subject is certain to be discussed. It is an issue not to be evaded.

Americans are at a disadvantage in maritime competition because labor is better paid by them than by their rivals. Conditions aboard ship are at a higher standard, and must be maintained at that standard, the law being specific. The law has been resented by some ship owners, but it has abolished the "hell ship," and has given the sailor the rating of a human being. The country could afford a subsidy rather than have this benign law destroyed.

Some foreign governments give ship subsidies without admitting that they do so. They do not have to set aside a lump sum as a bonus to a shop for doing business. They let contracts for carriage of freight or mail. Payment for the service is on a scale that makes voyaging possible, and yet the real profits come from other business. The mail contract serves to bring about contact with the opportunity to get the other business. Nothing is said about a subsidy, but the equivalent of a subsidy is paid, and everybody is satisfied.

"PERFECT EQUALITY"

Perhaps women who seek zealously to promote what they term perfect equality of the sexes, have overlooked some of the inevitable effects. It may be conjectured that not all the changes thus to be brought about would tend to contribute to flawless feminine happiness.

According to usual convention, it is the man who proposes marriage. Whether or not he realizes that this is a pledge to support a family, such is the essence of his declaration. Acquiring the family in due time, he does support it, as a rule. This is his bounden duty, so recognized by himself.

If after the proposal he breaks the engagement, he may be sued for breach of promise. If the lady can make a reasonably good showing of fact, her triumph virtually is assured. The only mooted question is the size of the verdict. But if there is no such contretemps, and family days arrive, and the man neglects to support his dependents, what then? The wife as one of the dependents may cause his arrest, and he is forced to support her and the children. Refusal means prison. There he may work and earn wages, but she gets the wages.

In case of so regrettable a necessity as a divorce, the woman gets alimony, measured by the ability of the man to pay. The man does not get alimony. In suing for breach of promise a man would be laughed out of court.

The wife may develop a far greater earning capacity than the husband, and she still may force him to support whatever family there may be, including herself, and divorcing him at last, make him add a portion of his comparatively meager earnings to her abundance.

Really, the gentler sex seems to possess certain advantages in the mere fact that the "perfect equality" for which its members sigh, is lacking.

NOT FAIR PLAY

Thieves entered the cellar of a rich man in Virginia and removed liquor said to have a value of $300,000.

According to some constructions of the law the removal of liquor by methods having all the color of larceny, could not in itself be a crime. By a fiction, operative when convenient, liquor is declared not to be property. If it isn't property, it can't be stolen.

However, this is not the point raised by the episode. The point is that in a land where prohibition is in the statutes, it is not fair that a rich man should have the privilege of harboring a stock of liquors sufficient to keep his whole social circle drunk for years. The fact is to be weighed in relation to the other fact, that a poor man is cut off from indulgence in any form of strong drink. This may be an excellent condition for him, and one for which he should feel grateful. Nevertheless there is a distinction between the poor goose and the wealthy gander that tends to arouse resentment.

Judge Lindsey of Denver proclaimed this when he showed how raids in that city placed the driver of a whisky truck in jail, and did nothing to the rich citizen who had hired the driver.

Even the citizens who were not in the beginning in favor of prohibition, desire to see it enforced, and believe that it can be enforced. They do not want any favoritism shown. The purpose of prohibition is to bring about benefit through the cessation of drunkenness. It is precisely as essential that a man able to have a fortune in liquor should be protected against the evils of strong drink as it is that the laborer shall be protected.

BETWEEN EXTREMES

American delegates to the disarmament conference have held their first meeting. As to the precise nature of the subjects considered, correspondents are having a joyful time in explaining. Doubtless they would be more lucid and fill less space, if they had any information. The effort to disguise the fact that they lack the information requires many words.

Beyond question the four delegates are aware that they will have difficulty in keeping in the middle of the road, with a set of extremists on each side of the highway clutching at their lapels. Any observer of the public temper is aware that there are these two sets of extremists.

One set is fearful that the United States will be led into such reduction of its means of defense that it will be in danger of falling prey to some raging and rampant power from overseas. Besides, a cut in armament would be a blow to the industrial interests that may have engaged the capital of members of this wing of extremists.

The second set has faith that if the United States were to sink its ships, dismiss its army, dismantle its forts, and thus signify a hearty belief in the good will of all other peoples, the whole world would follow the example and everybody be happy ever after. In calling the conference President Harding had in mind no such program as either set demands. The idea, so far as revealed to the intelligence, is to lessen the burden constituted of increase in armament. To make this possible an understanding must be reached, each nation pledging its honor to do its own part.

This is very different from continuing to stand girded as for war, or from stripping the country bare of defense, and standing before the world helpless.

The habit of suing the government for vast sums seems to be favored by war contractors. The general claim of these enterprising gentlemen is that had the war continued they would have made greater profits by delivering more wares. The habit would be less objectionable if the government were to sue a lot of the contractors for the profits they did get for wares never delivered, or that being delivered were inferior even to the point of rottenness.

At Long Branch a woman was killed as she tried to leap from a speeding automobile to an airplane. The accident, if the result of a silly and useless stunt may be so called, is to be regretted, of course. There is no adequate reason why a woman or anybody else should make such an attempt as this one that failed so tragically.

Bolshevism and World's Workers

By Dr. Frank Crane.

The socialists are not fools. The members of the various organizations of labor are not fools.

They know very well that it is the very essential of their existence that minorities should be allowed to organize and propagandize.

They know they could not exist in a nation where the rule is not: The majority must rule, but the minority must be heard.

Sugar-coat absolute tyranny with all the fine phrases and millennial professions in the world, it remains absolute tyranny; and whatever absolute tyranny means at first, under whatever sort of benevolent despotism it starts, it always means by and by the rule of brute force and not of right.

The Bolshevik regime in Russia is an absolute tyranny. This is no slander nor heated charge. It says so itself, openly and proudly. It claims that the only way to the Soviet Utopia is by the absolutism of the proletariat. And Trotsky, Lenin and Company constitute the proletariat, according to themselves.

Laying aside all rhetoric and party passion, we see the cold fact is that Russia today is every whit as much an absolute monarchy under Trotsky who slobbers the divine right of his class to rule, as it was under Nicholas who thought and uttered the same drivel about the divine right of kings.

The enemies of Bolshevism are not "the capitalistic class"; they are the workmen of the world, who have not gone crazy.

At a recent meeting of the International Union of the Socialist Parties, held at Frankfurt, Germany, this resolution was adopted:

"As revolutionary socialists we have the sad duty to state that four years after the foundation of the Soviet Republic there is not the slightest hope apparent that liberty of speech and of the press is accorded the proletariat, and it is with grief and indignation that we note that the Bolshevik regime suppresses by terror all free criticism."

"We find, in particular, that the social demonstration and socialist-revolutionary (left) parties, adherents of our organization, are subject to the same persecutions as under czarism, are not permitted a legal propaganda through the press, nor are their meetings allowed, and they are imprisoned and harassed as under the old regime."

So we see that it is not alone the "capitalistic press" and the "stupid bourgeois," but it is the common, ordinary workman himself that is the first to be trampled upon by the tyranny of force; and that, whether it be the force used by Puppet Czar or Caliban Bolshevik.

Kings at least fed their subjects, or allowed them to feed themselves; these new-fangled tyrants starve them.

THE LISTENING POST

The editor of this Listening Post is off on a journey.

Involving a lot of travel, a lot of work and a lot of pleasure.

For where there is work you like to do there is pleasure.

The editor is disposed to repeat something he said in this place a few weeks ago.

Or maybe he did not say it.

But thought to say it.

When you say a column of things every day for six days in the week, it is not always possible to remember just what you said.

But it is not important that you remember.

If you speak the truth.

For the truth remains always the same.

It has not changed since the universe existed.

Two times two have always been four.

A lie has always been a lie.

Cruelty has always been cruelty.

Shame has always been shame.

Dishonor has always been dishonor.

A smile has always been a smile.

A good deed has always been a good deed.

It is only the lie that changes.

It is like a chameleon, taking the color and shading of the surrounding circumstances.

For the lie needs to fit a particular set of circumstances.

Truth fits every set of circumstances.

Every act of your daily life coordinates and articulates with truth.

But none of them articulate with a lie.

They have to be twisted and shaped and warped and distorted.

So if you tell the truth, it is not important that you remember just what you said.

Because you will tell the same thing when you speak again.

Since truth never changes.

And the editor of this Listening Post has sought to tell the truth in this place.

Without fear or favor or to advance personal desire or anything like that.

And always in a kindly way.

Except where kindness would not serve.

And the thing he thought to say if he did not was that the way always to do as you please is to please to do what you have to do.

A very simple thing to be sure.

The wonder being that more people have not thought of it.

Just as the way to earn more is to spend less.

Another very simple thing.

That so few think of.

The man who cuts down expenditures twenty-five dollars a month earns that much more.

He has raised his own salary.

But to get back to the trip and the work:

The editor of this Listening Post will be for two weeks in Colorado with the men in the employ of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company.

And with the children in schools and with men and women and children wherever they may be in the places he may go to speak.

And he will speak twice a day.

At the invitation of the welfare officials of the company.

He does not expect to make eloquent speeches.

Or any that will be widely quoted.

Just friendly addresses touching human nature and the spirits of human beings.

Seeking to bring about a better understanding of men with men.

Seeking to bring to men in one class the view point of men in the other class.

Seeking to bring human beings together on the basis of friendly understanding.

And to leave perhaps a kindly message for the future.

And while he is gone this Listening Post will be here as usual.

Because he has been getting up early in the morning and sitting up late at night that you might read here what he says and thinks.

Believing that you would miss this friendly section if it were not here.

JAMES W. FOLEY.

SONGS OF THE POETS

Once on a Time—By Kendall Banning (1879)

Once on a time, once on a time,
Before the Dawn began,
There was a nymph of Dian's train
Who was beloved of Pan;

Once on a time a peasant lad
Who loved a lass at home;
Once on a time a Saxon king
Who loved a queen of Rome.

The world has but one song to sing,
And it was ever new,
And first and last of all the songs
For it was ever true—

A little song, a tender song,
The only song it hath;
"There was a youth of Ascalon
Who loved a girl of Gath."

A thousand thousand years have gone,
And aeons still shall pass,
Yet shall the world forever sing
Of him who loved a lass—

An olden song, a golden song,
And sing it unafraid:
"There was a youth, once on a time,
Who dearly loved a maid."

OBSERVED AT A GLANCE

By HENRY JAMES

Prof. Ross has changed his mind as to the wisdom of having a large family. So has the provider for that kind of a family been known to do.

Men who wed opera stars would be foolish to give up leases of their bachelor apartments.

Just as the Los Angeles chief of police is calling for more men, some that he already has get locked up as bootleggers.

A man who took poison to kill spirits, got hold a sort to which poor human clay was not immune. The effect on the spirits is not recorded.

Ex-Senator Gore, blind for forty years, is having his eyes treated. The doctor is sanguine, but Gore can't see a ray of hope.

Statements that ex-President Wilson is directing the anti-treaty fight doubtless originate in the spot where a correspondent would keep brains if he had them.

Five have been jailed as oil station robbers, but evidence accumulates nightly that some of the gang are still enjoying liberty and the pursuit of such happiness as crime affords.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

WHERE WE ARE

[Halifax Chronicle]

We are at the center of a maelstrom of ceaseless change. The glaciers of time are grinding across our life, reforming, remaking according to plans that no human architect ever drew. The falling leaves hint at what is at work. Leaves, then mould, then roses in someone's springtime. What we call death is better called change. October displays this power, the power of non-explaining, non-apologizing, forward-looking change. One may close his eyes to it all, but it goes on, and it has the noblest objectives for its aim.

As the short October day fades into evening, and the rising wind drives the fallen leaves down the darkening street, we turn homewards where light and warmth and love and comfort await our coming. October takes our song birds from our gardens, but it kindles the fire and lights the lamp in our homes.

THE LEAVE-TO-PRINT BLIGHT

[Cleveland Plain Dealer]

The Congressional Record is supposed to be a congressional record. Sometimes it is, and sometimes it falls under the leave-to-print blight.

Last Saturday's Record is an example. Senator Fletcher got leave to print an article on shipping which had appeared in the periodical called South Atlantic Ports—600 words. Senator La Follette got leave to print an editorial from a popular weekly—1500 words. Senator Caraway got leave to print an address recently made before a bar association by his colleague, McKellar of Tennessee—7000 words. Senator Dial got leave to print an article on cotton from the State, Columbia, S. C.—600 words.

Here are more than 14,000 words—the equivalent of more than eleven columns of space in The Plain Dealer—printed in a single number of the Record at public expense and to no useful purpose. One of the wastes which Director Dawes might tackle is the leave-to-print evil.

PATERNAL GOVERNMENT

[Florida Times-Union]

People of the United States are now required to ask permission from the federal government if they wish to make "non-intoxicating" wines for their home use. Probably by next year a permit will be required for making biscuits.

Comment on the News
By HENRY JAMES

Touching the matter of censoring movie pictures, this column is farther from standing alone than had been thought in the beginning. The Merchants' and Manufacturers' association of Los Angeles has been taking a postal card vote on the subject. At this writing 522 have voted against censorship, 53 for it, and seven for a federal censorship. If any scheme of censorship could have merit it would be the latter. To have a different set of reformers, each with its peculiar fads, at every city and hamlet, could mean nothing but the end of the moving picture industry. When the fact is considered that this industry is at the head of the California list in magnitude, the wisdom of exterminating it is obscure. The good folk so ready to kill the movies may not know that before they had marshalled in opposition the greatest foes of the screen were brewers and saloonkeepers. This is an interesting and significant fact. When a company desired the photograph of a saloon they had to construct the saloon. The proprietor of a resort of this type knew the scenario writer and the actor as the most potent enemies of his business.

While to choose the manner of going from life is not given to mortals (unless by violation of law, human and divine), to pass quickly when the end must come, is greatly to be desired. So passed Senator Knox. Stricken suddenly to unconsciousness, in a few minutes he was at rest. He knew no period of pain. He was not allotted to grieve at a parting he knew was inevitable.

Men engaged in robbing gasoline stations have taken the trouble to explain that Rockefeller was the individual they were after. That Mr. Rockefeller was quite absent from the places they invaded was a matter they failed to consider. When a hired person has charge of money, even though in a sort of fashion the money is likely to increase the Rockefeller income tax, he feels a certain responsibility. His feelings should be taken into account. To be poked in the ribs with a big gun held by a careless stranger is no pleasing experience. Several of the robbers have been caught, and the public is glad of it. Not at all out of sympathy with Mr. Rockefeller, to whom the total losses to date would be inconsiderable anyhow.

At last a convicted criminal has found a novel plea on which to seek appeal. His offense was bigamy. The testimony proved that he had married two women, not having procured a divorce from the first of the pair. His allegation is that he really had married three women, and could not be convicted of bigamy for marrying No. 3 since he never had been divorced from No. 1. He asserted that a charge of bigamy based on the fact that he had married No. 3 could not stand, since it depended upon the integrity of his marriage to No. 2, which was spurious. If the chap can get another trial on such a bluff, he ought at least to get a term of twenty years for his cheek.

Nicholas Murray Butler says that the United States cannot stand aloof from the world, or from contact with world problems. The learned gentleman need not argue the point at all. It is conceded. It is a marvel that society is so calm in viewing the certainty that the drug habit is on the increase. The drug addict is worse than any drunkard. "Dope" kills both soul and body, but it kills the soul first. The confirmed addict is a creature without conscience, a potential criminal, a burden and a menace. One of the odd facts in relation to the user of drugs is that he or she takes delight in spreading the habit. There seems to be a fierce and malign joy to the addict going down to hell, in dragging others along.

In Philadelphia a few years ago there was made the startling discovery that many school children were using cocaine. Investigation proved that adults circulated among the children at recess, supplying the stuff, and showing how to employ it. These agents were not addicts. They were mere hirelings planting the seed for a new crop of customers for the dope peddlers.

Hanging would be far too good for the dispenser of these deadly drugs. It also would be impracticable. They should go to prison for life. The element that might blossom into reform does not lie in them. Such of their victims as are worth saving should be isolated and treated. Many are beyond saving, so rotten have they become in body, mind and soul.

MRS. BONDEAUX IS HOSTESS AT BRIDGE

Mrs. Heloise Bondeaux, 306 North Central avenue, entertained Thursday afternoon at a very delightful bridge party. Mrs. Bondeaux was assisted by her mother, Mrs. A. A. MacIntyre. The house and table decorations were beautiful dahlias which had been presented to Miss Gabriella Bondeaux by Mrs. C. E. Norton.

The afternoon was spent in playing auction bridge, the prize for high score going to Mrs. A. H. Montgomery and the second prize to Mrs. J. P. King. Both prizes were tea aprons. Delicious refreshments were served to the following guests. Mrs. C. H. Miller, Mrs. C. E. Norton, Mrs. J. P. King, Mrs. V. M. Tressler, Mrs. Tratt, Mrs. Pendleton, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Frank George, Mrs. C. H. Parker, Mrs. Meadows, Mrs. John Robert White, Mrs. C. C. Cooper, Mrs. Armour, Mrs. Helen Campbell and Miss Anna MacIntyre.

CARD PARTY HONOR OF HOUSE GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Card, 319 Patterson avenue, will entertain this evening at a card party in honor of the 15th wedding anniversary of their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Vertmer of San Francisco.

The guests will include Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wells, Dr. and Mrs. Waltman, Mr. and Mrs. Boltz, Mr. and Mrs. Metzger, Miss Ida Messenger, Miss Bess Kidson, Miss Ruth Todd and William Knight, and the guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Vertmer.

BIRTHDAY PARTY
FOR MR. FUELSCHER

Mrs. A. H. Fuelscher, 237 South Orange street, entertained at a birthday dinner in honor of Mr. Fuelscher's birthday. The house was attractively decorated in pink roses and ferns. In the center of the dining table was a beautiful birthday cake, the top of which was centered with a large pink rose surrounded by pink candles.

Mrs. Fuelscher's guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. Evans and daughter, Mabel, Mr. and Mrs. H. Maurer and son, Walter, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Cowell and Mrs. Prowes from Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. G. Owens and daughter, June, from Pasadena, and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde St. Clair and son, Lester, of Glendale.

LITERARY SECTION
HAS GOOD PROGRAM

The Literary section of the Tuesday Afternoon club of which Mrs. F. L. Hollingsworth is curator, will provide the program at the meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon club to be held the coming week, October 18.

It will be one of the typical programs of the section and promises to be of much interest.

MADRIGAL CLUB
HAS THIRTY SINGERS

The Madrigal club of which Mrs. Charles A. Parker is the director, is now meeting every Wednesday morning from 9:45 to 11 a. m. for rehearsals in Odd Fellows' hall on East Broadway.

It now has a membership of 30 excellent singers who show the effects of two years of good work, and it will give its first concert of the season early in the year.

AN OLD RECIPE
TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and luster to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

Town Topics

Attend Dance. Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Cornkhite of 217 Milford street attended the dance given by the Westlake Chapter of O. E. S. in Los Angeles on Thursday evening. Mrs. Cornkhite is past matron of that chapter.

Arrest Salesmen. Two men giving the names of M. H. O'Keefe and R. L. Martin, both of Los Angeles, were arrested yesterday afternoon after Mr. Kirk, who lives at 1123 East Colorado street, reported that they were selling furs in that vicinity. Officer Harda brought the man in and they were fined $15 for driving an automobile without an operator's license and for having only one license plate on their car.

Two Thefts. Police records for yesterday show the theft of a jewel case containing three rings. A bicycle was also reported missing. The jewel theft was reported by Mrs. M. J. Davidson, 616 1/2 North Brand, who said that some one had stolen a case with two baby rings and a lady's ring. Mrs. Davidson saw the robber's back as he disappeared. The bicycle was stolen from Jack Southard, 341 West Doran.

In Oxnard. Secretary Rhoades and Assistant Secretary Sanders left Friday night for Oxnard, where they are today attending the convention of all the Chamber of Commerce secretaries of Southern California. While there Mr. Sanders will deliver an address on "How to get new members in the Chamber of Commerce." They expect to return to Glendale tomorrow afternoon.

Get First Deer. The first buck of the season has been brought to Glendale. A party headed by Samuel Thompson went out a few days ago and returned with a two-point buck shot by a Mr. Brown. The buck came from the hills in the vicinity of Sunland. It was a fine specimen, weighing above the average. The hunter will have the head mounted.

League Debate. The subject of the first league debate has been changed and the question will have to do with the tolls of the Panama Canal instead of "Disarmament," as at first announced. It will take place November 18 between Glendale and Hollywood and teams will debate at both places on the same evening.

Class Ring. B. J.'s of Glendale Union High have selected a design for their class ring. Specifications have been prepared and they are now inviting bids. It will be a narrow ring with a seal design on which will be inscribed "G. U. H. S. '22" in gold characters against a face of black enamel.

Select Sweaters. B. 11 class of Glendale Union High has decided on its sweaters, which are to be of the rough-neck, slip-over, deeply ribbed sort, of black and red, with the numerals on the front.

Three Deals. F. W. Harper of the firm of Harper & Craig, reports that in the past two weeks he has made three very good sales, aggregating $25,000. Each of the sales is for residence property. All of the deals are still in escrow.

New Residents. Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Bagg and son Roland, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. A. Gernar, all of Des Moines, Ia., arrived in Glendale yesterday after a motor trip from the East. They were just sixteen days on the way, stopping off two days in the Grand Canyon. Mr. Bagg is contemplating building here, but for the time being will visit at the home of his sisters, Mrs. H. Ryan of 332 West Acacia avenue, Mrs. C. Wyckoff of 209 South Everett, and Miss Harriett Bagg of 1021-A South Brand.

HONOR STUDENTS
AWARDED MEDALS

In accordance with custom started seven years ago by Mrs. George Moyse, honor students at Glendale High were yesterday morning presented with bronze pins. Back of the idea was the feeling that recognition should be given the good students who had been overshadowed by the trophies won by athletes who distinguished themselves.

The idea proved contagious, one school after another taking it up until now a movement is on to make it state-wide so that a student changing to another school can take his pin and receive credit for it there. No student is entitled to a bronze pin who has not carried 3 1/2 units of work. At the end of the senior year the student who has made an average of 2 plus throughout the entire high school work, is given a gold pin.

The pins were presented by Mrs. Moyse who told the students she wanted them to think of the trophies as representing school spirit and loyalty because the thing that makes the school accredited at the State University and enables graduates to enter there without examination is the good work that has been done by students. The students who received the pins were:

Eleventh Year, Summer 1923—Mrs. Viola Andrews, Mary Ball, Virginia Brecht, Edith Busch, Kathleen Campbell, Faith Evans, Eleanor Foster, Isabel Franklin, Frederick Gleason, Marian Gray, Gertrude Heideman, Elizabeth Higgins, Lois Olmstead, Marjorie Sherman, John Simpson, Charlotte Winsel, Francis Wyman.

Tenth Year, Summer 1924—Sigrid Berg, Frances Betz, Karl Burnett, Janice Cecil, Gwendolyn Chamberlin, Ruth Chambers, Charlotte Cleveland, Robert Frazee, Lester Herbert Gray, Gladys Hollingworth, Evelyn Horning, Wilhelmina Koethen, Harvin Mann, Neal Sosy, Evelyn Traver, Mabel Welch, Gladys White and Irene Whitney.

Thursday from a trip of the same nature and brought home several ducks. Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Wimmer entertained D. Adams at a duck dinner.

DOLBERG STUDIO
206 W. Broadway

We open for your convenience one of the best appointed Studios in this section of Southern California. The Studio is lavishly but harmoniously finished. Years of experience, together with our superb equipment, insures you a photographic product of superior quality. The secret of our success lies in the fact that, in addition to producing a chemically and technically perfect photograph, we study the individual and we portray, along with the likeness, that life and expression known as "personality." We take pleasure in making any special design or finished portrait for the particular person. The new "ULTRA BLUE" photographic light which is so beautifully soft and yet brilliant is a part of our fine equipment. The use of this light eliminates the handicap often imposed by adverse weather conditions.

CITY POSTOFFICE TO START AS FOURTH CLASS OFFICE

Will Then Be Put in First Class Is Belief of Present Head

Officials and employees of the Glendale branch of the Los Angeles postoffice have not been officially notified of the fact that the Glendale branch has been declared an independent postoffice according to George Hallett superintendent of the station. When the change is made the present employees of the branch will, for the greater part, be taken back to Los Angeles and assigned to duty either in the main office or in some of the branches in the city.

According to Mr. Hallett, establishing an independent postoffice will necessitate a change in the entire postal system of Glendale. The department is required to start every independent office in the fourth class. A fourth-class postoffice is not allowed a carrier and is allowed only one clerk besides the postmaster. The postmaster is required to pay the salary of his clerk and to supply all racks and furniture for the postoffice.

While, according to Mr. Hallett, Glendale is doing enough business to justify a first-class station, this cannot be done at the start. The office must first bear the fourth-class rating. Mr. Hallett offers a solution to this difficulty and one that in all probability will be followed by the department. Glendale will be established as a fourth-class office and will do business for one day under the above conditions. After the first day a postoffice of the fourth class is entitled to be advanced to any class that the business warrants. On the second day the office could be advanced to the first class and the regular corps of assistants be hired. This is the system that Mr. Hallett thinks will be used to advance the Glendale office.

DUFFIELD FUNERAL TO BE HELD MONDAY

The body of Harry S. Duffield, who passed away October 13, is to lie in state at the Elks' lodge at 300 South Olive street, Monday from 9 a. m. until 2 p. m., when funeral services conducted by officers of Los Angeles lodge No. 99 will be held.

The drill team of the Glendale Elks' lodge will participate in the services and a large delegation of officers and members will attend. Many old friends of deceased in the theatrical profession as well as neighbors of the Duffield in this city, and members of Knights of Columbus, of which he was a member, will be represented.

What a young man about to marry fails to consider is that even though two could live as cheaply as one, six or seven can't.

Foley's Friendly Fancies

MEN OF FREEDOM

Men of Freedom—ye who swore it—
By the eagle's spreading wings,
Ye whose grandsires for thee tore it
From the sceptred might of Kings,
Ye whose fathers for thee won it,
Pledged it, gave it thee to keep,
Danger-warns thee—do ye shun it
In a folly blind and deep?

Men of Freedom—ye who name it
First of being's right, to be,
Ye who cherish it and claim it
For thy children and for thee,
Ye, the tempest lightly scorning,
Will ye only pray for morning
Ye purblind who will not see,
When the night shall cover thee?

Men of Freedom—ye who learn it
From the blood and tears of men,
Duty calls thee—will ye spurn it
Till by blood and tears again
Ye must tear it, fighting, dying,
As thy fathers did for thee
From a lust or power, denying Freedom's God-willed right to be?

FIRST OPPORTUNITY Offered to Glendale People

In the sub-divisions that we have handled for the past two years over 90 per cent of the lots have been picked up by Los Angeles people, and over 50 per cent have been built on, except for a few blocks taken by local contractors. GLENDALE INVESTORS have failed to grasp the opportunity and thereby have been the losers, for our prices have gained 25 per cent to 50 per cent in a very short time. This increase in value has been caused by the constant demand for moderate-priced building lots, by the building that naturally follows and by the improvements which we put in.

The present prices include sidewalks, curbing and street work, but they will be raised when the work is actually in. In this way we protect the investors and increase the value for those who have built homes.

This Is the Best Proposition We Have Ever Handled

THE LOCATION is ideal, being in the desirable and popular foothill district at Sixth and Pacific, two blocks from the car line.

THE RESTRICTIONS demand a high-class neighborhood, with no temporary homes or cheap building, though they are not so high as to be prohibitive.

THE TERMS are attractive for investors or moderate homeseekers.
